

PROJECT OVERVIEW

The project has three phases.

PHASE 1: Critical Media Analysis

What You Will Do:

1. Choose ONE social issue
 - Education pressure
 - Poverty
 - inequality
 - Consumerism
 - Environment etc.
2. Select THREE media sources related to that issue:
 - One movie scene
 - One advertisement
 - One billboard (Local)
3. Analyze how each represents the same issue.
4. Identify techniques, biases, representation in these three media forms.
5. Submit a written report.

Focus of Phase 1:

- Representation (How is the issue shown?)
- Purpose (Awareness or profit?)
- Target audience
- Persuasive techniques
- Hidden messages or ideology
- Comparison of media
- Impact on audience

Outcome of Phase 1:

You will learn to:

- Decode media messages
- Identify manipulation

- Recognize ideology
 - Think beyond surface meaning

PHASE 2: Recreation & Interview Study

What You Will Do:

1. Recreate two of your selected media texts:
 - o Rewrite and recreate the movie scene
 - o Redesign the advertisement
 - o Create an alternative billboard
2. Make it more responsible, balanced, realistic, or inclusive.
3. Interview at least 3 people.
4. Show them:
 - o The original media
 - o Your recreated version
5. Record their responses and analyze them.

Focus of Phase 2:

- Audience perception
- Emotional reaction
- Perspective change
- Media influence on viewers
- Awareness after comparison

Outcome of Phase 2:

You will:

- Observe how audiences interpret media
 - Encourage critical consumption
 - Experience real-world media impact

PHASE 3: Final Presentation

What You Will Do:

1. Present your analysis.
2. Show your recreated media.
3. Share interview findings.
4. Insert short interview video clips in your slides.

5. Explain how audience perception changed (or did not change).

Focus of Phase 3:

- Clear communication
- Evidence-based findings
- Integration of research and creativity
- Critical reflection

Outcome of Phase 3:

You will:

- Demonstrate critical media literacy
- Present research confidently
- Connect theory with real-life responses
