

Essay Writing

Ms Sanaa Ilyas

What an Essay is?

Essay?

Composition made up of multiple paragraphs which develops ONE specific idea.

Development?

Can be developed using the same method as paragraphs. 5-6 paragraph essay to be explored.

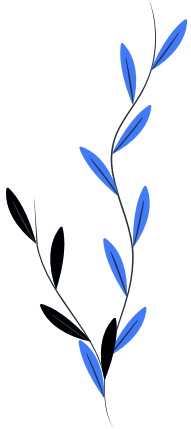

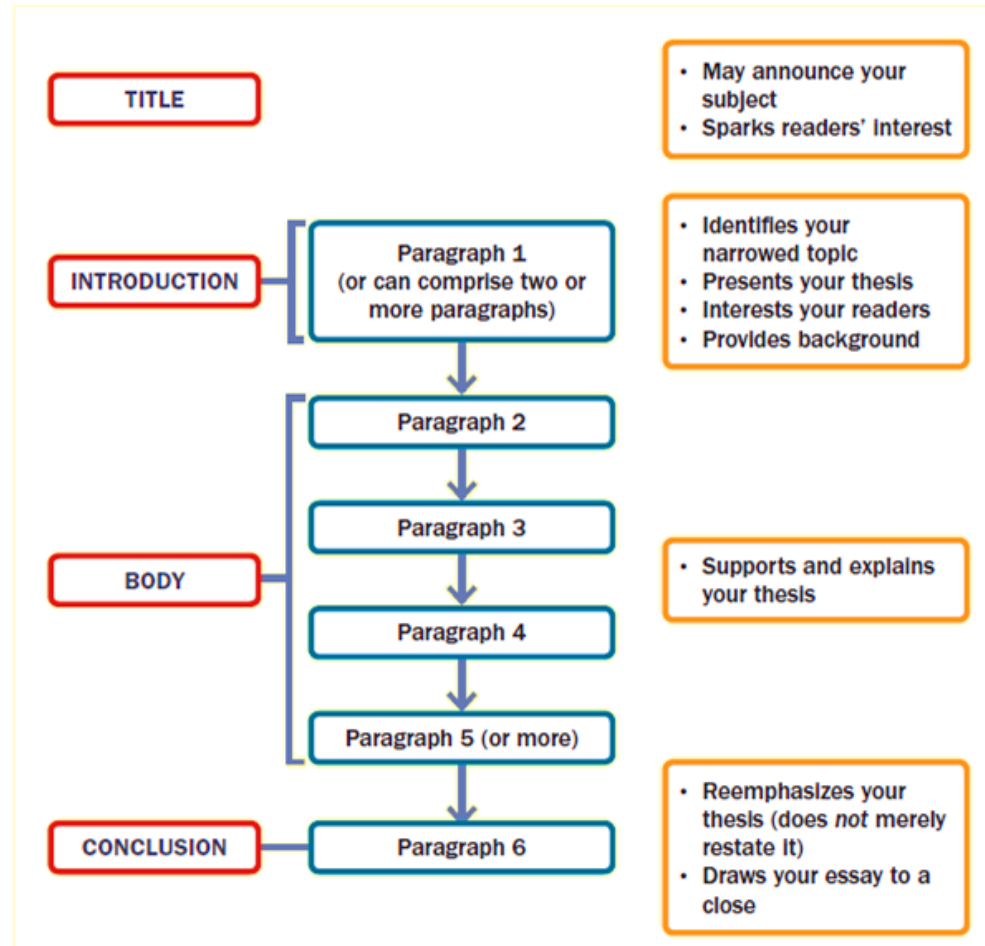

FIGURE 7.2 The Structure of an Essay: Parts and Functions

Parts of an Introductory Paragraph

General Statements

- Introduces the topic
- Provides context
- Capture readers attention- Hook

Thesis Statement

- States the specific topic
- List Subdivision
- May indicate pattern of organization

Two years ago, John Smith was robbed at gunpoint while walking home from a movie theater. The thief took his money, watch and cellphone. In high crime neighborhoods like his, this frequently happens. There is not enough police to protect innocent people walking home at night. Smallville needs more police to control gangs, drug users and to decrease violence.

In the age of social media dominance, a new breed of celebrities has emerged, wielding immense influence over millions with just a tap of their screen. Welcome to the era of Influencer Culture, where individuals leverage their online presence to shape trends, opinions, and consumer behavior. As we navigate through this digital landscape, it becomes increasingly evident that Influencer Culture is more than just a passing trend; it's a phenomenon reshaping our societal norms and values. Exploring the complexities of Influencer Culture is important as . Influencer Culture, with its role in reshaping contemporary lifestyles, fueling consumerist tendencies, and redefining authenticity, presents a challenge to individual and societal well-being.

Thesis Sentence

01

Announces

Overall subject

02

Writer's Attitude

What is the writer's stance

03

One Main Idea

Explores one idea only

04

Organizational Map

Essay map- what reasons will you develop

05

Not Fact

Cannot be developed

06

Question?

Do NOT ask a question.

Analyzing Thesis

1. Is St. Louis an exciting city in which to live?
2. The St. Louis Cardinals are a professional baseball team.
3. Many people have different opinions on whether St. Louis is a good place to raise a family.
4. St Louis has not fully utilized its riverfront for barge traffic; the civic leadership has not dealt effectively in revitalizing the north side of the city.
5. St Louis has a rich social, political and cultural history.

Expressing Writers Attitude

How writer feels about the topic

Verb- can begin to express the writers attitude

Are/ are not
Is/ is not
Should/ should not.

Clarity

Identifying the Writer's Attitude

1. Organically grown fruits and vegetables are healthier than those chemically treated.
2. Students who study on daily basis are more successful on exams than the students who cram.
3. Hybrid fuel automobiles will help reduce America's dependence on foreign oil.
4. Metal detectors should not be installed in schools throughout the country.
5. Society during the "good old days" was not any better than today.

The Essay Map

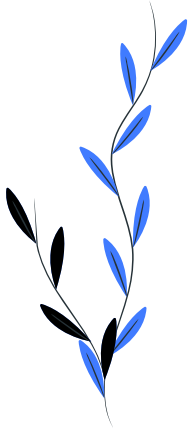

Organize

3 item essay map in the thesis sentence will both organize and limit the essay discussion.

Example

Intelligence, dedication, and hard work are necessary ingredients for a successful career.

Examples

Voting and military service are important activities for all citizens.
(two topics, no essay map)

Voting is an important responsibility for all citizens. (one topic and clear attitude, no essay map)

Voting is an important responsibility for all citizens because it gives people a voice in how the government is run, removes ineffective politicians from office, and influences political decision making. (one topic, clear attitude, three-item essay map)

Many students work while going to school. (statement of fact, no attitude, no essay map)

Working while going to school can teach students valuable lessons. (one topic, clear attitude, no essay map)

Working while going to school can teach students responsibility, organizational skills, and teamwork. (one topic, clear attitude, three-item essay map)

Are regular automobile oil changes really necessary? (question—not a clear opinion, no essay map)

Regular oil changes can keep a car running better. (one topic, a clearly stated opinion, no essay map)

Regular oil changes can keep a car running more efficiently, improve gas mileage, and reduce long-term maintenance costs. (one topic, clear attitude, three-item essay map)

Identifying the Thesis Statement

1. Broccoli and oranges are good sources for vitamins.
2. Playmaking, speed, and bench-clearing brawls make ice hockey an exciting sport.
3. The Rolex is considered by many as a better wrist watch than the Breitling.
4. College students go to class, study, and write papers.
5. Bungee jumping is a dangerous activity.
6. Solar power should be a government priority because of diminishing fossil fuels, environmental pollution and skyrocketing costs.

Writing

01 Effective Thesis

Write Statements, Not Announcements

Not Effective

The point that I am trying to make is that parents should supervise what young children are watching.

Effective

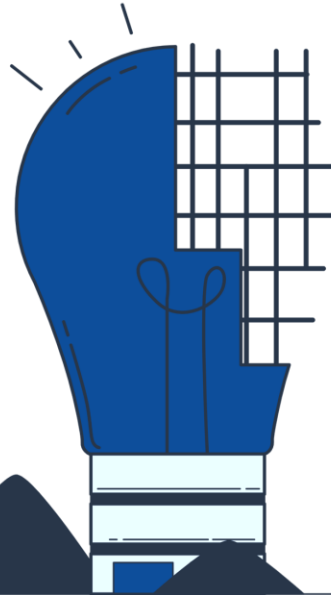

Parents should supervise what content their children are consuming because it helps protect them from exposure to inappropriate material, guides them in developing media literacy skills, and fosters the formation of healthy habits and values.

Focused & Not Too Broad

+

Not Effective

Eating fast food is bad and should be avoided.

+

Effective

Pakistanis should eliminate the regular consumption of fast food because it leads to preventable and expensive health issues like diabetes, obesity, and heart disease.

+

+

Avoid Narrow Statements

Not Effective

Karachi received heavy rainfall in 2025.

Effective

Pakistani officials made several mistakes on their response to the recent flooding in Karachi which led to the loss of life and immense damage to the city infrastructure.

Centered on a Debatable Topic

Not Effective

There are numbers of homeless people living in Rawalpindi.

Effective

Homeless people in Rawalpindi should be given access to services such as regular food donations, public restrooms, and camping facilities, because it would improve life for all inhabitants in the city.

Develop one Idea Only

Not Effective

One of the serious problems affecting young people today is bullying, and it is high time that people learn the value of helping others.

Not Effective

One of the serious problems affecting young people is bullying as it leads to detrimental effects on mental health, social relationships, and academic performance.

+

Offer an Original Perspective

Not Effective

Media defines and perpetuates gender roles.

+

Effective

Disney movies and Barbie culture instills stereotypical gender roles for girls which affects their self image and limits what they can be or what they can achieve

+

Lets Write Thesis Statements

1. A movie you have seen
2. A social issue you are interested in
3. A job you have or would like to have
4. A famous person you admire
5. A piece of artwork you really like

Hook of the Essay

How do we start the essay?

Hook / Attention Getter

1st sentence of the essay

Gain readers attention

Make them curious about the argument

Ask a Thought Provoking Question

- Deliberate over what will makes your readers think.
- Simple questions will not be effective

Should health insurance companies pay for more than one stay in a drug rehabilitation center? Should insurance continue to pay for rehab services when patients consistently put themselves back into danger by using drugs again?

Dramatic/Engaging Anecdote

At 3 a.m., a family wakes to the sound of shattering glass. A masked intruder is in their home. He's arrested minutes later, caught red-handed with stolen jewelry in his bag. But in court, his defense argues improper search and seizure. The evidence is thrown out, and the man walks free—while the family installs bars on their windows and tries to sleep again. Whose rights are truly being protected?

Relevant Quotation

- Don't select a well-known quote
- Relate it to your work

Imagine two people standing on opposite sides of a wall they both built, brick by brick, with every argument and refusal to listen. Nelson Mandela understood this trap well: "If you talk to a man in a language he understands, that goes to his head. If you talk to him in his language, that goes to his heart." True resolution begins not with winning an argument, but with reaching the person behind it.

Little Known or Shocking Facts

Recent research has shown that the color pink has a calming effect on people. In fact, a prison detention center in western New York was recently painted pink to make prisoners more controllable in the days following their arrest.

Describe a Hypothetical Situation

Suppose you were in a serious car accident and became unconscious. Suppose further that you slipped into a coma, with little hope for recovery. Unless you had a prewritten health-care proxy that designated someone familiar with your wishes to act on your behalf, your fate would be left in the hands of doctors who knew nothing about you or your preferences for treatment.

02 Body Paragraphs

Body Paragraphs

Develops the Thesis

Pattern of paragraph development

Provide Evidence

Specific Details

Writing the Conclusion

How do I end my essay well?

Think about the Future

For now, then, the present system for policing the Internet appears to be working. In the future, though, it may be necessary to put a more formal, structured procedure in place.

Remind Readers

- The importance of the thesis
- Can provide suggestion

As stated earlier, research has shown that the seat-belt law has saved thousands of lives. These lives would almost certainly have been lost had this law not been enacted

Call to Action

To convince the local cable company to eliminate salacious material, concerned citizens should organize, contact their local cable station, and threaten to cancel their subscriptions.

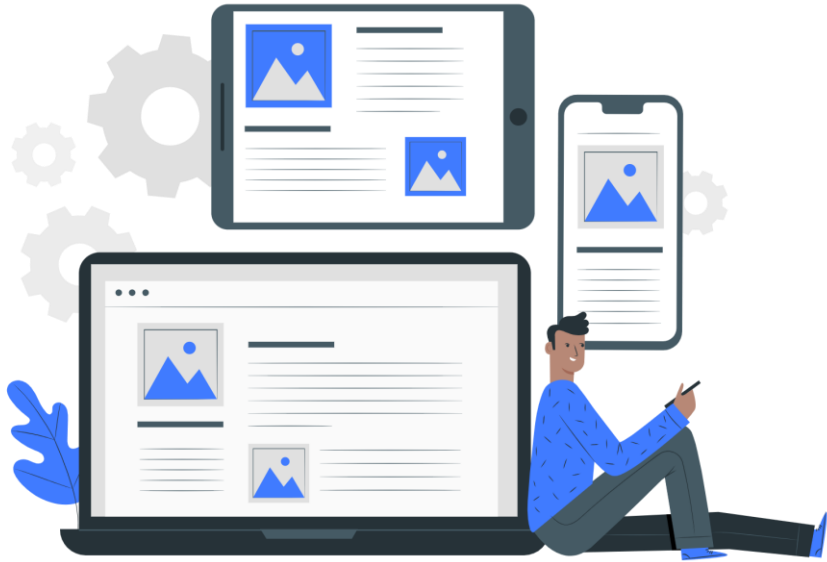

Fact/Statistic/Anecdote/Example

The next time you are tempted to send a strongly worded email, consider this fact: Your friends and your enemies can forward those messages, with unforeseen consequences to you

Prediction

Because of the proliferation of these monster-vans, insurance rates will surely rise in the near future.

Evaluation

New drugs to combat disease are an important result of these studies. Additionally, new antibiotics are needed to replace those that have become resistant to because of overuse.

INTRODUCTIONS AND CONCLUSIONS: FOUR COMMON MISTAKES TO AVOID

In your introduction, don't . . .

1. make an announcement. Avoid opening comments such as “I am writing to explain . . .” or “This essay will discuss . . .”
2. prolong your introduction unnecessarily. An introduction that is longer than two paragraphs will probably sound long-winded and make your readers impatient.
3. discourage your readers from continuing. Statements such as “This process may seem complicated, but . . .” may make your readers apprehensive.
4. use a casual, overly familiar, or chatty tone, especially in academic writing. Openings such as “You’ll never in a million years believe what happened . . .” are generally not appropriate for college essays.

In your conclusion, don't . . .

- make an announcement or a restate your thesis directly. Statements like “In my essay I have shown. . .” are dull and mechanical.
- Introduce major points or supporting evidence. Reasons and evidence that support your thesis belong in the body of your essay.
- apologize or weaken your stance. Do not say, for example, “Although I am only twenty-one, . . .” or back down after criticizing someone by saying “After all, she’s only human.”
- use standard phrases. Don’t use phrases such as “To sum up,” “In conclusion,” or “It can be seen, then.” They are routine and tiresome.

Questions?

Thank you!

